MA IN MISSION DISABILITY UNIT

This is a stand-alone unit which can be taken as an optional unit for anyone on the MA programme or can be attended by anyone who wishes to do so as a Short Study Break or as part of a sabbatical. It is an ideal study break for anyone interested in mission and ministry amongst people with disabilities.

The unit explores the following:

- the theologies of disabilities
- issues of inclusion and exclusion in church and community
- the church's practice of mission to, with, and alongside of people with disabilities.

For those taking the unit as part of a PG Certificate, PG Diploma or Master of Arts, the unit is assessed by a 6,000 word assignment.

This unit can therefore be undertaken as an optional unit at a number of different levels:

- Postgraduate Certificate in Mission: a two-year part-time course incorporating the two units of study
- Postgraduate Diploma in Mission: a two-year part-time course incorporating the two core units of study and two units of study from across the syllabus.
- MA in Mission: a one-year full-time or a two-year part-time course incorporating the two units of study AND two units of study from across the syllabus, plus a Masters level dissertation of 12-15,000 words

It is expected that part-time students will work on average 12 hours a week for 30 weeks in each year in addition to researching a dissertation, if required. Full-time students will complete all the units relevant to their course in a year (up to four for MA level) and have until the following March to submit a dissertation, if required.

If you are looking for a course that will go wide in its grasp of the subject, deep into some key themes, and will prepare you for the challenges of our day, then this is the course for you!

This course is also offered as a on-line course normally in January of each year. It runs over a four week period and is a combination of reading, short lectures, interactive forums, and on-line meetings.

Course run subject to final approval by the University of Manchester.
